

thefridaybookclub.inspirelight.net

JOANA MARIE VERDEFLOR
Founder

TRISHA MAE CERDEÑA
Finance/Logistics

LAYLA-TAL O. MEDINA
PR/Social Media

THE FRIDAY BOOK CLUB

one book, one child, at a time

About our Team

The Friday Book Club is an organisation founded in 2016 by Joana Marie Verdeflor, a young pharmacist based in Naga, a city in the island of Luzon, Philippines. Joana believes that every child should have access and opportunity to education, reading, and learning.

Joana also believes that the youth is the future, and that we, the present generation, should help give the children hope and confidence

The Friday Book Club is a steadily growing team of people from all walks of life with the same vision: that each child will have the opportunity and access to reading and learning, and that he may use those opportunities to build a better nation, be a better citizen, and be a better contributor in the growth of our country.

One book, one child at a time.

What we do, in a nutshell...

As our organisation's aim is to give the light of hope to children with limited or no convenient access to books, reading and learning, The Friday Book Club organises book drives, storytelling sessions, and we also help organisations give out aid to children in need--such as school supplies and other awesome things!!

WE'VE GOT SOCIAL.

Want to know what we're up to and what we've got planned? Follow our social media avenues to keep in touch!

Instagram

@thefridaybookclub

Facebook

Friday Book Club

Twitter

@fridaybookclub

SIGN UP, SIGN UP

...for our newsletter through our blog!
Visit our online home:

<http://thefridaybookclub.inspirelight.net>

and sign up/subscribe for our updates!
We've got a lot of cool stuff to share!

WORK WITH US

Our team has worked closely with groups and individuals who share the same vision--that is, passing on the light of hope that reading, and learning brings. The following individuals and groups have been our partners:

...considering working with us?

We always welcome new opportunities for partnerships or collaborations!

For general inquiries, collaboration, partnership, and other related concerns, send us a message to this email address:

fridaybookclubsessions@gmail.com

For PR/Social Media/Promotions and related concerns, email:

thefridaybookclubpr@gmail.com